ORC's universal products encompass the construction, consumer, commercial and industrial market throughout the world. While ORC specializes in adhesive-backed products, there are also many other types of measuring devices and hand tools that we manufacture. Many of our products are exclusively Trade Marked. Additionally, a good portion of our business is designing and making products to customer specifications. As such, our diverse capabilities include, but are not limited to, the nomenclature, processes, materials and Trade Marks listed below.
